

Actavis UK Ltd & Actavis Ireland Ltd's Prohibition Against Human Trafficking and Modern Slavery

Pursuant to applicable regulations, including Section 54 of the UK Modern Slavery Act of 2015, Actavis UK Ltd & Actavis Ireland Ltd provides the following statement:

This statement sets out actions taken by Actavis UK Ltd & Actavis Ireland Ltd (The company) to understand and mitigate potential modern slavery risks related to its business and to put in place steps that are aimed at ensuring that there is no slavery or human trafficking in its own business or its supply chain.

The Company's understanding of slavery and human trafficking is based on the definitions set out in the Modern Slavery Act 2015 and is guided by the UN Universal Declaration of Human Rights and the conventions of the International Labour Organisation particularly relating to forced or compulsory labour.

As part of the pharmaceutical industry, the Company recognises that it has a responsibility to take a robust approach to slavery and human trafficking and is absolutely committed to preventing slavery and human trafficking in its business activities and ensuring to the best of its ability that its supply chain is free from such activities.

Our Business

The Company's business is the manufacture and sale of pharmaceutical products to hospitals, community pharmacies, dispensing doctors and wholesalers in the UK and Ireland.

The Company currently operates in the following countries:

- United Kingdom (Head office, Manufacturing, Distribution, Sales & Marketing)
- Ireland (Sales & Marketing)

The company believes in the protection of human rights globally both in the workplace at our own facilities and within our supply chain. We forbid slavery or human trafficking of any kind and are committed to promoting responsible business practices with our suppliers. We have several corporate policies, including our Code of Conduct, our Respect at Work Policy, and our Know Your Business Partner checks, which address our position on these issues.

Modern Slavery Act 2015

Code of Conduct

The Company's Code of Conduct sets forth our code of ethics and expectations regarding responsible business conduct. It provides information about the standards of integrity that The Company requires all employees to follow, including standards relating to fair treatment and diversity, anti-harassment and bullying, human trafficking and slavery.

Our Supply Chain

Our company purchases medicines, pharmaceutical ingredients and componentry from third party suppliers.

Whilst the company neither requires annual certifications nor conducts formal on-site audits of all its' supplier relationships, the company:

- a) conducts vendor due diligence via a Know Your Business Partner process which includes a review of publicly available news related to legal and ethical practices/ violations, a search of UK and US sanctions lists and a questionnaire requesting more detailed information about the suppliers' operations and key employees.
- b) ensures its' supply contracts contain provisions by which suppliers agree to comply with all laws related to their performance under those agreements.
- c) conducts on-site visits of its' primary suppliers from time to time to review and discuss contract and quality performance.

The company's aspiration is to select and work with suppliers who embrace and comply with the principles of our code and conduct within their business and that of their suppliers.

Accountability Standards

The Company has a Code of Conduct in place that governs the actions of our company and employees and holds them to the highest level of ethical and social responsibilities. The Company's goal is to work with suppliers who embrace and comply with our principles, and, in turn, to have these suppliers encourage compliance from any suppliers with whom they work in delivery of goods or services for The Company.

Employees who do not comply with the provisions of the Code of Conduct may be disciplined, which may include dismissal. To the extent permitted by law and contractual provisions governing termination rights, we reserve the right to terminate relationships with third parties, including suppliers, who conduct business in a manner that conflicts with the companies Code of Conduct.

Relevant Policies

In keeping with the Company's commitment to act with integrity in all its business dealings, many of our existing policies are relevant to ensure that there is no slavery or trafficking in any part of the business.

Our relevant policies include:

- Public Interest Disclosure (“Whistle-blowing”) Policy: The Company encourages all its workers to report any concerns related to the direct activities, or the supply chains of, The Company. The Company's whistleblowing procedure is designed to make it easy for workers to make disclosures, without fear of retaliation.
- Code of conduct: The Company's code of conduct makes clear to employees the actions and behaviour expected of them when representing the Company. The Company strives to maintain the highest standards of employee conduct and ethical behaviour throughout its business and in managing its supply chain. The guidelines detailed in the code of conduct apply to all Company personnel, whether permanent or on fixed term contracts and including agency staff, contractors and workers employed via distributors to deliver services to the Company, its directors and all Company-related transactions.
- Recruitment/Agency workers: The Company uses only specified, reputable employment agencies to source labour and always verifies the practices of any new agency it is using before accepting workers from that agency.
- Anti-Harassment & Bullying: The Company encourages and maintains a professional and friendly working environment where everyone is free to work without harassment, victimisation or bullying for any reason and where everyone in the workplace is treated with dignity and respect. The policy applies to all workers, job applicants, agency employees, contractors, consultants, suppliers and customers.
- Anti- Corruption: The company is committed to the highest standards of ethical conduct and integrity in its business activities in the UK and overseas. This policy outlines the Company's position on preventing and prohibiting bribery, in accordance with the Bribery Act 2010. The company will not tolerate any form of bribery by, or of, its employees, agents or consultants or any person or body acting on its behalf.
- Corporate Social Responsibility: Actavis takes its social responsibilities very seriously, supporting a wide range of good causes and initiatives around the world. Our strategy is to support programmes and projects that offer a shared value for both parties. These initiatives also need to be consistent with our business, improving health and the quality of life, contributing to a qualified and productive workforce and enriching life. To help make a difference in the community, we work with chosen community partners through a company matching donations programme. We encourage employees to get actively involved with our community partners through either volunteering or raising sponsorship.
- Equality and Diversity: The company is committed to being an equal opportunity employer and to ensuring that all employees, job applicants, customers/clients and other people with whom we deal are treated fairly and are not subjected to unfair or unlawful discrimination.